New Court Cases

V. W. Weltzien vs. E. B. Underwood action for money. Plaintiff states that on or about July 26, 1917, defendant employed him to find a purchaser for defendant's 119-acre farm in Granger township; that in August plaintiff found a purchaser, who paid $11,000, the amount asked by defendant for the farm, and to whom defendant conveyed the deed. Plaintiff states that no amount was agreed upon between plaintiff and defendant as to what the former should be paid for his services as salesman, but that the services are reasonably worth $550, to recover which amount with interest, the suit is brought. Plaintiff avers, that defendant refuses to pay the above sum or any part of it. F. W. Woods, attorney for plaintiff.

Charley A. Roose files answer and cross petition to his wife's, Mamie E. Roose's suit for divorce, wherein plaintiff charged defendant with habitual intoxication and extreme cruelty. The couple were married Nov. 25, 1906, and have two children. In his cross petition Roose cites gross neglect of duty, untidiness, and adultery, in the latter charge naming one Jim Ward, and one Charlie McClellan, otherwise known as "Race-horse Charlie." Roose also asks that his wife be restrained from disposing of a valuable horse, buggy and harness, which she is alleged to have taken when she left Roose's bed and board. Mamie and infant son are now with her parents in Wadsworth. The older son is in the care of the father.
